Day 2 This morning's round is played on the Druids Glen course also know as the "Augusta of Ireland". The course has many unique features such as the beautiful fawn and flora along with bushes and hedges sculpted into serpents. Another facet is the discovery of the Druid statue protecting the 12th green, not to mention the Island green at the 17th hole. Druids beautiful rolling hills and elevation changes make this course one of the prettiest and challenging in the world. Druids Glen has hosted many Irish Opens in its history. After your round, you may want to take advantage of this opportunity to play an additional round at Druids Glen or then enjoy a golfer's massage and hot tub therapy in the relaxing spa.
